What is e-learning?

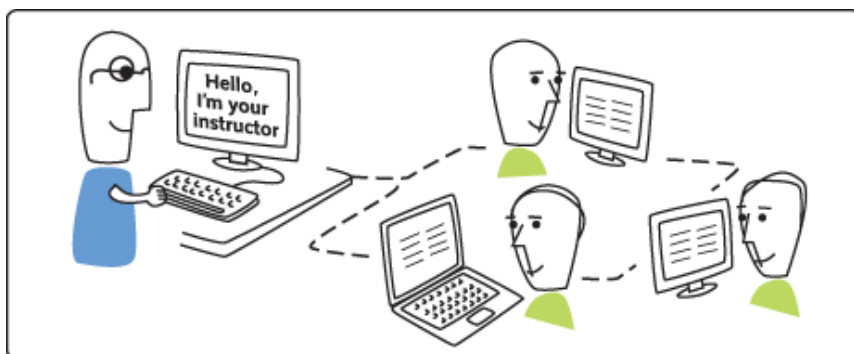

It is when the student and the teacher are located at different school sites and technology is used to provide instructional services. It eliminates the geographical barrier and provides a broader selection of courses for meeting the instructional needs of the student.

Vernon Parish offers two types of e-learning: Compressed Video Conferencing (CVC) and online learning through the Louisiana Virtual School (LVS)

Compressed Video Conferencing

What is CVC?

Courses taught through CVC allow students and teachers at different locations to see and hear each other at the same time through the use of cameras, projectors and other technology.

What are the advantages of CVC?

Students can take classes not offered at their school.

It provides real time, face-to-face interaction between teacher and student.

Vernon Parish has CVC classrooms in each of the ten Jr. High/High schools in the district.

Current Course Offerings through CVC:
